Things to do and see locally:

Dover Castle -

One of Kent's must-see attractions is the famous Dover Castle, showing the history of Henry II's medieval palace. You can explore over 80 acres of the castle grounds, including: The Great Tower, Battlements Walk and Defences, Secret Wartime Tunnels, and much more.

Shell Grotto –

Discovered by chance in 1835, at the Shell Grotto you will find 70ft of winding passages decorated with 4.6million shells. Due to its lack of definitive explanation and the arrangement of shells creating images and patterns including gods and goddesses, experts are still unsure whether it could be an ancient Pagan grotto, or an ornate Regency folly. The Shell Grotto is Kent's greatest mystery.

The White Cliffs of Dover –

These high chalk cliffs look out onto the English Channel, giving far-reaching views towards the French coast. The best way to see the cliffs is to take a walk along the coastal path towards South Foreland Lighthouse. The cliffs also have a special place in our national history and they were used for defence in both World Wars.
